

CHURCH RESOURCES THAT CAN HELP

Self-Reliance Services

Self-Reliance Services helps members as they strive to obtain the temporal and spiritual necessities of life. Members attend a self-reliance devotional where they learn doctrine, complete an assessment, and choose a self-reliance group that will help them gain new skills. Training includes managing personal finances, finding a better job, increasing education, and starting or growing a small business. One-on-one assistance and access to community resources are also available to help individuals achieve their self-reliance goals.

Development Counseling Services

Development Counseling Services assists Church leaders in helping individuals who have significant barriers that prevent them from achieving long-term self-reliance, such as lack of skills, mental health issues, physical disability, criminal history, substance abuse issues, or any other vocational impairment. Services include career assessments, planning and coaching, coordination of educational and certified vocational training programs, funding resources and on-the-job training opportunities.

Deseret Industries

Where available, Deseret Industries thrift stores and donation centers provide a variety of opportunities to help individuals gain valuable skills, work experience, and training. Job coaches assist members by providing personal on-the-job mentoring. Placement services are also provided to help members transition to long-term employment.

LDS Family Services

LDS Family Services help Church leaders care for individuals with social and emotional challenges by providing resources that are in harmony with gospel principles. Resources include consultations for Church leaders, counseling services, single expectant parent services, adoption consultation and referrals, and support groups to help individuals overcome pornography use and other harmful behaviors, such as alcohol and drugs.

BYU Pathway Worldwide

The PathwayConnect program (formerly called Pathway) is a low-cost, one-year educational opportunity that combines online courses with local gatherings. PathwayConnect helps people start or return to college at a fraction of the cost of other colleges. After completing the PathwayConnect program, students can automatically be admitted to BYU-Idaho on campus at the typical cost, or continue online at a reduced price. Students will also receive the spiritual benefits of a gospel-incorporated education.

Ministering Resources

Ministering Resources is a website created to assist Church leaders as they respond to the specific challenges members face, such as abuse, addiction, marital conflict, mental health, missionaries who return home early, pornography, same-sex attraction, suicide, and many other issues. Ministering Resources is accessible to members of ward and stake councils, and provides easy access to resources such as gospel teachings, scripture references, assessment tools, and Church policies.
