

Helping You Find Local Self-Reliance Resources

For Bishops, Committee Members, Group Participants, and Others In-Need

LDSJobs.org can help you find local, community-based resources and contacts to help you achieve your self-reliance goals.

LDSJobs.org

Sign-In & Registration

Accessing the resource database on LDSJobs.org requires you to sign-in using your LDS Account username and password. For those new to the site, you will need to register. This generally takes no longer than 5 minutes, and benefits to registering include:

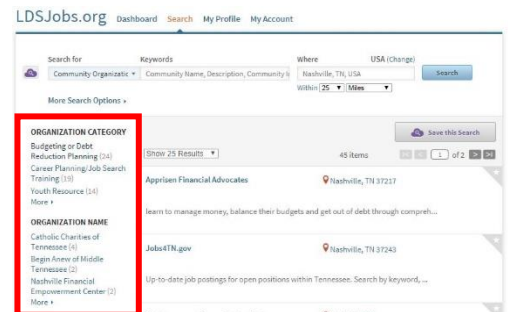

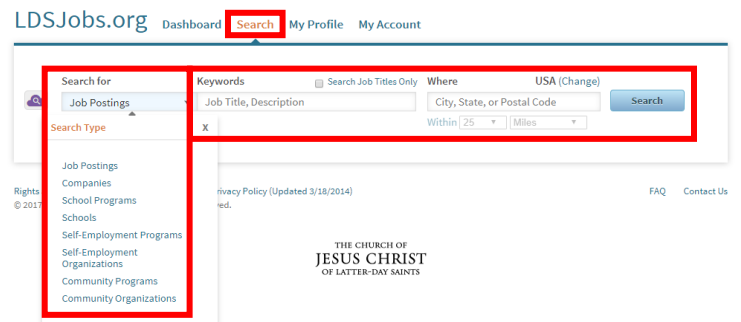

- Access to developed resources and contacts.
- Visibility into those that need better employment for committee members.

Searching for Local Resources

LDSJobs.org contains a searchable database of local, community-based resources and contacts that can help you on your path to greater self-reliance. Resource topics include: financial empowerment; small business coaching; self-employment programs; job openings & local employers; education & training programs; and many others.

To search resources near you, navigate to the 'Search' drop-down menu and click Search:

- Under the 'Search for' menu, select the desired category from the dropdown menu. (i.e. Community Organizations; Self-Employment Programs; Companies; Schools; etc.)
- Enter keywords to help identify the resource you are targeting.
- Type the city, state, or postal code. You can further narrow the search by entering a mile radius.
- Click Search. A list of resources is generated based on the search criteria.
- You may further narrow your search by using the filters on the left-hand side of the screen. Filter categories include: 'Organization Category'; 'Organization Name'; 'State'; and, 'City'.

Helpful Tips & Information

Along with the database of local resources, LDSJobs.org houses an extensive knowledgebase, with articles ranging from how to find better employment to developing small businesses to choosing an educational program. To access, click the 'Article Index' option at the top of the screen:

How to Find Upcoming Community Events and Useful Links

For Bishops, Committee Members, Group Participants, and Others In-Need

In addition to serving as an online resource database, LDSJobs.org lists upcoming community events and useful links that can help people become more self-reliant. This information is found on the local Employment Resource Center (ERC) page (see right).

The two ways to access this information are outlined below.

Nashville Tennessee Employment Resource Center

107 Twin Hills Drive
Madison, TN 37115
USA
Email: Well-EC-Nashville@ldschurch.org
Phone: 1 615-851-7110
Fax: 1 615-851-7109

Whether you are you looking for a better job, interested in starting your own business, in need of education or training, or just need help managing your family budget or personal finances, Self-Reliance Services (SRS), formerly known as LDS Employment Resource Services, can help support you on your path to greater temporal and spiritual self-reliance. Contact your local linkage or the able Self-Reliance specialist and ask about attending an upcoming Self-Reliance devotional and joining a Self-Reliance group. You can also receive one-on-one assistance by visiting a Self-Reliance Resource Center or LDS Employment Resource Center if available in your area.

Even if a center is not close enough for you to visit, we recommend that you log-in to ldsjobs.org and create your profile. On ldsjobs.org you will find many tools and tips to help you, including links to local employment, self-employment, and education resources.
