Reentry Services

Reentry Services help felons and other returning citizens get back on their feet after incarceration. Because reentry case managers work with felons every day, they'll know which landlords are likely to approve your application.

To find reentry services in Utah, contact the United Way helpline on 2-1-1 and ask for a list of reentry providers in your area. You can also go through the reentry resources for Utah listed by the Probation Information Network.
